Anthem Properties approached EKISTICS to develop a new brand of parkside Townhomes on a seven-acre site in Surrey's pastoral West Clayton neighbourhood. The collection of 143 townhomes range in variety and size, with two-bedroom, three-bedroom and four-bedroom homes, anchored by a large amenity building.

Taking influence from prairie-style architecture of the early twentieth century, EKISTICS crafted elegant forms out of modest cladding materials, while maintaining each home's sense of identity.
