Vernon, Canada

CLIENT: Swarovski Enterprises

DATE: 2003 - 2009

SCALE: 15,000s.m.

Build a spa resort worthy of Swarovski, was the commission given to EKISTICS. Set atop the mountain forests of the Upper Okanagan in British Columbia, Sparkling Hill Resort is a 150 room luxury wellness resort hotel set within 185 acres of ecologically sensitive landscape. EKISTICS, in collaboration with Feenstra Architecture and Cannon Design (project architects), led the plan and design of this luxury resort complex with direct oversight by the Swarovski family of Austria.

The hotel focuses on health and well-being, with its extensive European Style Spa treatments. The hotel rooms occupy the upper levels of the building providing views in all directions; over the lake and surrounding mountainsides. Two restaurants, a wine bar and entertainment and conference rooms round out the offerings of this mountain top resort.
